Identity Guidelines Summary

Aside from ensuring that the symbol continues to appear on materials, the new system affords a wide level of flexibility. The symbol is now free to exist in isolation, detached from the name of the church or entity. It is still preferable for the symbol to have a thoughtful relationship to the rest of the design system. We recommend in most cases, where the symbol is detached, it sit within in the Sabbath column. When not using the Adventist symbol within the Sabbath column or locked up with an entity name, the preferred version is the knocked-out circular version, which allows for more graphically pleasing layouts.

Additionally, the symbol is now allowed to exist in a variety of colors. Moving forward, it is recommended the symbol only be used in solid-color versions. The symbol may be a different color than the accompanying wordmarks, but all elements of the symbol should appear in the same color.
